HRFlow AI • Sample Company Policy

1. Purpose

This policy defines the process for handling sick and emergency leave while maintaining clear communication and accurate HR records.

2. Sick Leave

- Employees who are unable to work due to illness should notify their manager or HR as soon as reasonably possible.
- A leave request should be submitted through the HR system with the requested dates and a brief reason.
- Supporting documentation may be requested for extended absence or where required by company rules or applicable law.

3. Emergency Leave

- Emergency leave may be requested when an unexpected personal or family situation requires immediate absence.
- The employee should contact their manager or HR as soon as practical.
- The formal HR system request should be completed when the employee is reasonably able to do so.

4. Approval

- Pending requests are reviewed by the authorized HR/management user.
- Where the workflow requires higher-level approval, the request is escalated to the authorized administrator.
- The approver's name and action date should be recorded for approved or rejected requests.

5. Return to Work

Employees should communicate their expected return date and notify HR promptly if the absence needs to be extended.

6. False or Misleading Information

Providing inaccurate information in a leave request may result in review under the organization's disciplinary and conduct procedures.

7. Confidentiality

Medical or personal information submitted with a leave request should be handled confidentially and accessed only by authorized personnel.

8. Records and Reporting

HR records should maintain the leave status, relevant dates, and approval history for accurate reporting.

9. Compliance

This policy should be applied consistently and interpreted together with applicable employment laws and the organization's broader HR policies.
